ABOUT MIGI

The Michigan GI Society

The Michigan Gastrointestinal Society (MIGI) was founded in 2020 as a statewide membership organization available to gastroenterologists, certified registered nurse practitioners, physician assistants, nurses, and allied health professionals practicing gastroenterology, hepatology, and endoscopy. One of our goals is to connect gastroenterology providers, including clinicians, researchers, advanced practice providers, and allied health professionals, in order to facilitate the sharing of information among colleagues and to foster support and collegiality. MIGI also advocates for healthcare issues at the state and national levels on behalf of its members.

2023 MIGI OFFICERS

MIGI is a professional organization providing education, support, and advocacy for healthcare providers in Michigan. The objective of the conference is to provide a comprehensive educational update highlighting data and information from the major annual US conferences in gastroenterology and liver disease to its healthcare provider members. The MIGI annual conference will bring together gastroenterology providers including clinicians, researchers, advanced practice providers, and allied health professionals regionally.

For this conference, MIGI has assembled a world-class thought leader faculty led by MIGI's leadership: Jami Kinnucan, MD; Richard Saad, MD, MS, FACG; and Laith Jamil, MD. The faculty are responsible for agenda development, data presentations, panel discussions, and interactive sessions. This makes the MIGI meeting a unique opportunity to interact with leaders in the field and see how they diagnose and treat complex disease states.

In addition to offering live meetings, MIGI posts all recorded lectures on its website, which are available for viewing at www.migisocietymeeting.org. Additionally, all slides presented are available for download.

- Exhibit-related shipping arrangements and resulting expenses are the responsibility of the Sponsor.
- The Conference Organizer will assign exhibit locations within the expo area.
- Upon acceptance of your sponsorship, you will receive a confirmation email with additional details on the event. Within three months of the conference, you will be contacted via e-mail with the Exhibitor Kit.
